CHELSEA PIZZA Co.

Since 1972

PIZZA, PASTA & GRILL

• OUR STORY •

The Chelsea Village complex opened in 1972 and housed one of Perth's busiest meeting places, The Chelsea Tavern. The Tavern contained three levels of small bars, a live music venue, an 80 seat restaurant, a court yard and a bottle shop. The Village was also home to antique shops, restaurants and a small pizzeria called The Pizza Cave.

Soon after opening, the pizzeria became one of the Charlie Brown's Pizza chains and introduced yeast free pizza bases that are still made today.

Charlie Brown's soon became an independent owner operated store. Due to the unauthorised use of the Charlie Brown name from the popular Peanuts cartoon strip, the pizzeria changed its name to Chelsea Pizza Co.

The original standard pizza range has not changed since it was first introduced in 1972.

In 1985, Chelsea Pizza Co was the first to offer a home delivery pizza service in Perth and the business grew rapidly due to the unprecedented demand.

In 1991, the little pizza shop got a Restaurant Liquor Licence and introduced a range of "Gourmet" pizzas along with a gluten-free base option.

In 2015, George took over and quickly turned the Nedlands shop into a restaurant offering an extensive menu. The restaurant's success is owed to its irresistible menu.

By using fresh and local ingredients, Chelsea Pizza ensures meals of the highest quality for all customers.

George's passion for pizza drove him to explore a variety of Italian dishes and ultimately led him to create Chelsea Pizza's impressive menu offering mouth-watering meals.

Chelsea Pizza adds its own flare to the cuisine with the new addition of the hamburger aficionado, a sensational range of burgers, rack of ribs and fries! Every dish encompasses the perfect balance of flavour, leaving customers always wanting more!
